

Youths Plan Revival at Area Church

A week-long revival series has been scheduled at the Narbonne Avenue Baptist Church beginning next Sunday under the auspices of the youth of the church.

Leading the revival services will be A. L. McDaniels, preacher, and Joyce Beard, pianist. Both are students of the California Baptist College in Riverside.

Sunday's service will begin at 8:30 a.m. and the weekday services will begin at 7:30 p.m. A picnic has been scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday. Other events during revival week include a singspiration Tuesday evening after services, and a panel discussion with question and answer opportunities Friday evening.

Pastor Robert A. Wells and family have been on vacation and are scheduled to return to Lomita Friday.

American Cancer Society researchers at the University of Pennsylvania are using electronic "brains" to investigate chemical characteristics of cancer cells.

Glendale Savings Open on Saturday

Glendale Federal Savings and Loan Assn.'s Torrance branch will be open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, according to Charles Cederlof, branch manager.

"Our office will be open Saturday for the convenience of our customers who may wish to add to their savings before July 10 so that the money will earn dividends from the first," Cederlof said.

Construction Bonds Put on Fall Ballot

By VINCENT THOMAS
Assemblyman, 68th District

The final hours of our third 1962 special session are upon us as I write these words. Oratory and parliamentary maneuvers are still going on, but as of now, it is certain that California voters will be required to take a second look at the $270 million state construction program bond act when they go to the polls next November.

The shortness of this session was made possible by the fact that the Governor put only this one bond issue in his proclamation. The $150 million bond proposal for parks and recreation facilities was left off at the last minute, though strong pressures were exerted to have it included.

INTRODUCED as a Senate bill, the administration measure calls for approval of the same amount of bonds as the proposal which was defeated by the voters at the June 5 election. The new measure differs from its predecessor, in several aspects regarded as important.

First, it is spelled out more specifically that the purpose of the bond issue is to provide funds for construction, equipment, and site acquisition for the state colleges, public junior colleges, the University, and for facilities for the mentally ill and retarded, narcotics control and correctional institutions, conservation camps, and forestry fire-fighting facilities. No amounts for these purposes are stated, except that it is provided that not less than 80 per cent of the total ($216 million) must be used for the needs of the colleges, junior colleges, and the University. The only specific amount stated is that at least $20 million shall be used for needs of junior colleges.

SECOND, THE measure contains the precise language to be printed on the election ballot, describing the bond issue and explaining its purposes. Ingeniously, the measure gives the bond issue a preferred position on the ballot, ahead of propositions passed in 1961, by the device of numbering it "1A" in the section designating the ballot language.

The bill reached the Senate floor the first night of our session. Two attempts were made to amend it. The first would have amended into it another Senate bill which would have reduced the amount of the bond issue to $215 million, earmarked entirely for the educational institutions. The second would have specified the amounts to be used for the various purposes. Both amendments were defeated, and the bill was passed with only two dissenting votes.

IN THE Assembly, four different bond bills were introduced, none containing the entire program in the administration bill. One would have provided a separate bond issue for the state operated collegiate institutions. Two would have provided bond funds for public junior colleges, but by different formulas. The last would have provided a bond issue for general state building purposes.

In its first legislative action, the Assembly by a bare majority vote suspended its rule requiring a three-day interval between the introduction of a bill, or the receipt of one passed by the Senate, and its first committee hearing.

THE HEARING on the Senate bill by the Assembly was quite prolonged. After the opening statement by the author, several attempts to amend the bill were beaten back. Then spokesmen for the state institutions of higher learning, the junior colleges, and the affected state agencies testified as to the acute needs for new facilities which can be provided if the bonds are approved.

After final action by the Assembly, it will once again be up to the voters to decide.

Boyce Endorses Primary Rival, Ted Bruinsma

Ted Bruinsma, GOP nominee for Congress in the 17th District, has received the unqualified support of his primary rival, Dr. Merle Boyce.

After conferring with County Chairman Jud Leatham on ways and means of uniting the campaign workers of the two candidates, Boyce said:

"I will wholeheartedly support Bruinsma in his campaign to unseat the do-nothing Democrat incumbent, and urge all those who worked so hard for me to do the same. A united Republican effort is essential to elect a Republican Congress and halt the leftward drift of the current Democrat administration."

Commenting what he termed "Boyce's fine spirit of cooperation and good sportsmanship," Chairman Leatham said: "His active promotion of party unity will be greatly respected and appreciated by the Republican leaders and workers in his district."
